TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 2, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT:
GEN. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
 OF PENNSYLVANIA.
 FOR VICE PRESIDENT:
HON. WILLIAM H. ENGLISH,
 OF INDIANA.

The great principles of American liberty are still the lawful inheritance of this people, and ever should be. The right of trial by jury, the habeas corpus, the liberty of the press, the freedom of speech, the natural rights of persons and the rights of property must be preserved.

WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
 Maj. Gen. Comd'g Dept. La. and Texas.

“Unconsidered Trifles.”

You can tell dog world by its bark.

Mr. Zebekowatschkyra is a candidate for office in Minnesota.

A bull in the kettle is worth two on your nose.

A sick man is considered out of danger when the doctor discontinues his visits.

As with a woman so with a horse. His back hair is his mane trouble.

The potato resembles an archery club because it shoots out on all sides.

Nature should mend her ways. English tourists think American autumnal tints entirely too loud.

Army recruits are managed so that the private soldiers shall not be made public.

New York Republicans are glad to see any port in a storm, and that is why they cling to Johnny Davenport.

Any evidence of courage may congratulate himself upon having arrived at the dignity of head salaried.

A determination to be recollected is an appropriation for the improvement of the river of the life.

The ignorance displayed by our butchers is simply astounding. No one in a score of them knows when a bird ceases to be a chicken and becomes a hen.

“Give me the hand that will never deceive me,” says the poet. He wants the cards stacked so as to bring the four aces into his fist.

“Never borrow trouble,” said a husband to his wife. “Oh, let her borrow it if she can,” exclaimed the next door neighbor, “she never returns anything you know.”

The bee can deliver a stinging rebuff and yet keep its mouth shut. This is where it has the advantage of the campaign orator.

“I believe in bananas in the abstract, but not in the concrete,” said the old gentleman as he painfully arose from the asphalt walk.

“Beware of pickpockets,” was one of the decorations on the wall before the eyes of members of the recent Pan-Presbyterian council in Philadelphia.

The only special attraction at Niagara Falls this month is a custom officer who can answer a civil question in a civil manner. He isn't there to stay, of course.

No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth—a Bacon. Republican papers are losing a heap of fun.

“Kings I have met” is the title of Mr. Archibald Forbes's lecture. Some day Mr. Forbes will come across three kings and a pair of sevenes. Then he will learn something about the resources of this country.

An insignificant little barrel hoop lying upon the sidewalk has been known to yank a man right out of the bosom of the church and hurl him into the ranks of backsliders.

A man at Birmingham, N. Y., wanted to have some fun with an old lady by playing ghost. The only mistake he made was in not finding out beforehand that she kept a shotgun in the house.

An American lawyer is now attorney general of the Sandwich Islands. If in two years he doesn't own the entire country and hold the king's note for a large sum he is no credit to the American bar.

Gospel Truths.

He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it. But he that trusteth in spring blossom, is by no means as difficult as a proposition in Euclid. Try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, as to him. For sale by H. B. Cochran, drug, 127 and 129 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

Workingsmen.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs refreshing and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Biliousness, Spring Fever, or some other spring complaint that will cripple you for a season's work. You will save time, money, sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of H. B. Cochran's Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil this month. Don't wait, see other column.

Shakespeare Revived.

To Act on Not to Act that's the question. This cheerful conundrum, y' r'heumatic soufflés, is by no means as difficult as a proposition in Euclid. Try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, as to him. For sale by H. B. Cochran, drug, 127 and 129 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

How Happiness is Secured.

Happiness is the absence of pain, or annoyances, and when there is pain there is disease. A pain in the lower portion of the body indicates a disorder of some kind. If it is a pain of color or of heat, it is a sign of inflammation and requires attention at once. We have heard many a man boast of his liver cure and are convinced there is nothing so certain and valuable for all disorders of the urinary system both male and female.
